Why we are different

Local Presence, Global Reach and Expertise

Captive-Focused, we specialize in Arkansas Captives

- Extensive experience in captive formation & management, especially in Arkansas
- Stephens has played a key role in forming 25% of the current captives in Arkansas ⁽¹⁾
 - 50% of this teams clients utilize captives that we formed and currently consult on

Our team has been instrumental in forming

of captives currently operating in the state of Arkansas

Integrated Reinsurance and Captive Strategy

- Unlike other brokers, Stephens combines captive and reinsurance teams for cost-efficient program design
- Directly aligns reinsurance placement with captive objectives for optimized retention & coverage
- Use data-driven analysis & market intelligence to dynamically adjust reinsurance layers

(1) As of 2023, based on a report published by Captive Insurance Companies Association .

July 1, 2025

This committee's goal was to insure state and district buildings in a more efficient and stable structure.

- July 1, 2025 is the current structures renewal date
- Costs of Delay: Extending past July 1, 2025, potentially increases costs, reduces market capacity, and limits savings opportunities.

» By acting swiftly and decisively, the committee can minimize financial inefficiencies, secure full market participation, and move towards achieving long-term stability for the states property program by July 1, 2025. Delaying the launch could lead to higher costs, potential constrained market capacity, and missed opportunities for savings.

Stephens Plan for the AR Captive

Action Steps for Timely Execution

1	Stephens named Broker by March 1, 2025
2	London roadshow between April 1-15, 2025
3	Reinsurance Submission by April 1-15, 2025
4	Captive Formation and Regulatory Approval June 1, 2025
5	Launch of Captive and Reinsurance Renewal July 1, 2025

Compensation Structure Overview

- We estimate the current cost to the State is $3M - $6M in compensation to brokers and intermediaries in the form of fees, commissions and other forms of indirect compensation
- We are proposing a much lower all-in fee that is fully transparent and will not include any other forms of indirect compensation from insurance carriers, international intermediaries, or other vendors

Stephens is Committed to the Success of the Arkansas Captive

- 1 Arkansas-first approach – Stephens is committed to protecting state assets
- 2 Captive expertise – proven success forming and managing Arkansas captives
- 3 Integrated reinsurance & captive strategy – streamlined, cost-effective approach
- 4 Ready to launch program by July 1, 2025
- 5 Transparent fees – expected all-in brokerage/intermediary cost savings
- 6 Strong London Connections with Market leverage

Appendix

How We Determined Our Fee

(1/2)

Primary Services within our Fee:

- Claims Leadership – advocacy, resolution strategies, compliance oversight.
- Loss Control Leadership – risk mitigation strategies to reduce claims.
- Reinsurance Placement – direct market access for cost-effective coverage.
- Premium Allocation Management – ensuring equitable distribution.
- Day-to-Day Administrative Support – policy maintenance & reporting.
- Captive Consulting & Optimization – ensuring long-term program success.
- Intermediary Selection & Fee Management – competitive selection process drives better terms, pricing, and coverage for the State.

Key Considerations:

- Newly formed captive's operational needs are evolving, but Stephens ensures long-term fee stability.
No anticipated fee increases for many years.
- Consolidation of services eliminates inefficiencies, replacing multiple intermediaries.

How We Determined Our Fee

(2/2)

Intermediary Selection and Fee Management

- Stephens' independent status enables a truly client-centric approach when selecting intermediary brokers.
- We conduct comprehensive market searches and draw on relationships with various intermediaries—such as Miller, BMS Group, Howden, Amwins, Price Forbes, or, if in the client's best interest, the intermediary brokers of the large, international brokers—to secure the best fit for each placement.
- By engaging multiple intermediaries before selecting a partner for the placement, Stephens fosters competition, all in an effort to procure the most favorable terms, pricing, and coverage options for the State.
